needs in the workplace

Single desks

Bench desks

Choose from two types of table legs

- H type metal legs gives the additional free space for moving and storing things.

- Panel legs are an option for those who prefer more privacy. This type of legs visually covers the space under the desk and creates an aesthetic office look.

Anti-collision solution

Hardware based anti-collision PIEZO solution limits material damages in case desk collides with a solid object.
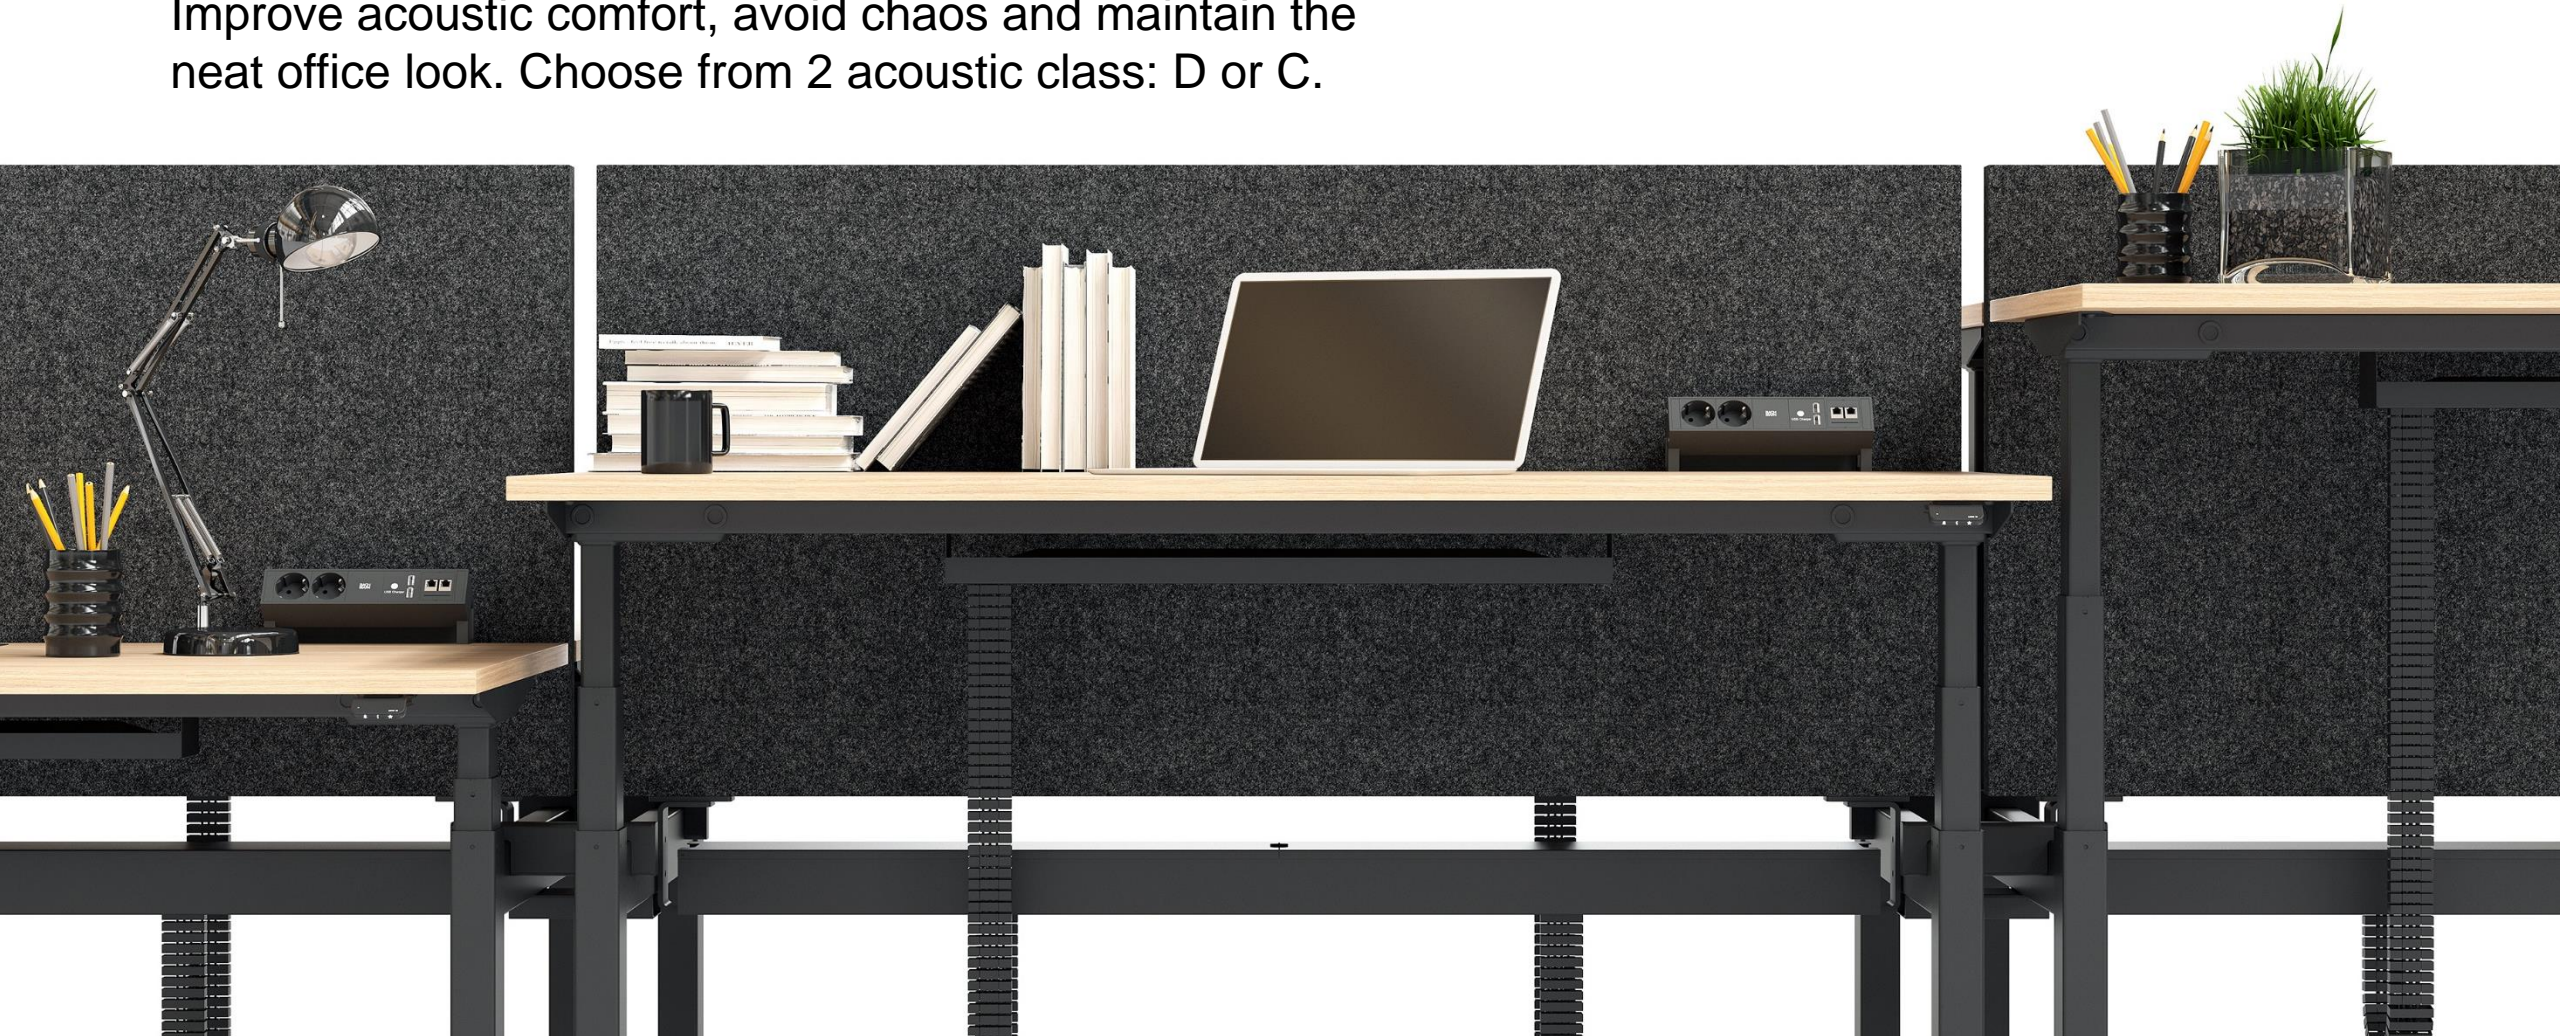

Note:

- only desks with 3 columns have anti-collision function;

- system is less sensitive if the collision happens close to a column or at high load.
